

GOVERNOR SMALL'S TRIAL STARTED MONDAY

BUT LITTLE PROGRESS MADE ONLY ONE JUROR TENTATIVELY CHOSEN

BOTH SIDES PROFESS TO BE WELL PLEASED

Predict That Jury Will be Secured Within a Week or Ten Days—Attorneys Wage a
Hot Fight Over Edward Price, One of the Jurors Drawn—Court Gets Hearty Laugh

WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 24.—Governor Len Small went on trial today charged with conspiracy to embezzle state funds. At the close of the first day's work one juror had been tentatively accepted by both state and defense, one tentatively passed by the defense and 22 dismissed for causes that ranged from inability to understand English to possession of a fixed opinion as to the governor's guilt or innocence.

Cheered by what they considered a successful opening day, both sides tonight were predicting that a jury can be obtained within a week or ten days, instead of the earlier estimates of three or four weeks.

The state accepted four men of the first 22 examined but when they were turned over to the defense for questioning two were challenged for cause and one was excused by the court because of his physical condition.

Governor Small, his son Leslie and friends attended the opening day's session. Judge Edwards announced it would not be necessary for the governor to remain in court thruout the trial.

SOVIET PROBLEM LOOMING BIG IN THE CONVENTION

Delegates are Proving
About as Tractable
As Army Mule

(By The Associated Press)

GENOA April 24.—Another new twist in the Russian tangle again causes inquest in conference circles. Seemingly the Russian delegates have reported new proposals.

It is understood that at the meeting of the experts on the Russian question this afternoon the soviet delegates argued for complete wiping out of the war debts and also relinquishment of all arrears in interest on pre-war debts.

Simultaneously they asked for assurances that the powers would grant loans sufficient to enable Russia to re-organize her national life. As the soviet previously had given the allies to understand that a sealing down of the war debts would be accepted the demand of the delegates for a protocol cancelling these debts caused great surprise to the representatives of the powers who reported to the chiefs of their respective delegations that the trend of today's meeting with the Bolsheviks indicated the possibility of insuperable difficulty in coming to some arrangement with the soviet.

The Russian request for extensive loans caused dissatisfaction because it is recognized that it would be extremely difficult to guarantee credits to Russia without some reasonable assurance (Continued on Page Four.)

OLD FASHIONED TARIFF DEBATE IS HAD MONDAY

Democratic Senators Make Vicious Assault on Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—There was an old-fashioned tariff debate today in the senate. It marked the real beginning of the week's and perhaps months of battling over the administration measure which the finance committee reported two weeks ago. The discussion was opened by Senator Smoot Republican with a detailed explanation of the elastic tariff proposals written into the bill at the suggestion of President Harding and it included an attack on those proposals by Senator Jones, Democrat and the opening of a general assault on the whole measure by Senator King, Democrat.

Characterizing the measure as "more iniquitous" than the Payne-Aldrich and Dingley measures, Senator King charged that it was a bill "to increase the price of everything the people buy" and was framed in the interest of the dye trust, the steel trust, the chemical trust, the woolen mill trusts, some of the cotton manufacturing trusts and the multitude of great organizations that in the past have preyed upon people and that in the future will continue their policy of exploitation.

Senator King declared that the address of Chairman McCumber of the senate finance committee in calling up the measure last week was an appeal to the predatory interests of the United States to be merciful to the poor consumer and said that when the nation was at war, and the very fate of civilization seemed to be at stake "some of the same vultures that dictated schedules on this bill were robbing the people and the government."

McCumber Makes Denial
Chairman McCumber later denied that his address was an appeal. He said that in discussing conditions in the world and in this country, he thought the time opportune to call attention of manufacturers, retailers and factory laborers that the American public could consume only as much as it could purchase and that if production was to be increased prices would have to be brought down to within the reach of the consumers' pocket book.

Senator King took a fling at the agricultural tariff bloc, the manufacturers bloc and what he described as other blocs and groups. He declared that the death knell of political parties was sounded when there was division into farmers groups, workmen's groups and manufacturers groups. Referring to the American valuation Senator King warned that the senate would be in session many weeks if not months before a valuation plan is written into the measure.

In his prepared address explaining the elastic tariff proposal, Senator Smoot declared they not only offered a solution of the particular tariff problem now before congress but also suggested a practical basis for a continuing scientific adjustment of the tariff in the future.

When Day and Wood met to-day the latter is alleged to have struck with some unknown weapon breaking Day's nose. Day is alleged to have then drawn a revolver and to have fired two shots. Wood died an hour later.

WOULD ARREST WHOLE COUNTY

(By The Associated Press)

MANCHESTER, Ky., April 24.—The arrest of every person more than 12 years of age in the Mill Creek neighborhood of Clay county has been ordered by Circuit Judge Hiram J. Johnson in an effort to break up lawlessness which culminated last week in the ambushing of county officers who went into the district to arrest moonshiners. Two hundred warrants were issued by Judge Johnson and orders were given to confiscate all high powered rifles and large caliber pistols.

A squad of 20 men left with sixty warrants and Judge Johnson then decided on the wholesale roundup. Officers are returning with prisoners and reports are to the effect that many of those charged are coming in voluntarily and that others hurriedly are leaving the county.

Plant executives explained today that the shortage of semi-skilled labor for rolling mills has become acute. Common labor is plentiful, steel operators said.

PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR SMALL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 24.—Governor Len Small today appointed a commission to receive contributions of money, food and clothing for the relief of flood sufferers in southern Illinois, promised all possible state assistance in the work, issued a proclamation appealing to the people of the state to give to the cause and directed Adjutant General Black to supervise the commission's relief work in the field.

In his proclamation the governor pointed out that the $500,000 appropriated by the last legislature in anticipation of such relief calls was unavailable as the law had been held unconstitutional. Harold K. Weber, Springfield banker, was appointed chairman of the relief commission, with Louis L. Emmerson, secretary of the Springfield Marine Bank, and V. Y. Dallman of the Illinois State Register and S. Leigh Call of the Illinois State Journal as his associates. The two papers started relief subscription lists last week on their own initiative.

The governor's proclamation follows: "Whereas, a great disaster has been visited upon a considerable number of the people of Illinois thru flood conditions caused by unprecedented high water and several of our cities and villages are now under water to a depth of from one to sixteen feet, necessitating the removal of hundreds of families from their homes to tents on high ground and entailing much serious illness among the people so evicted from their homes; and

"Whereas, in addition to the great property loss to our state and its citizens, intense suffering, sickness and absolute want now face the people of the inundated district; and

"Whereas, heretofore emergency funds have been available to the governor and the state agencies under his control for just such relief purposes but the appropriation of $500,000, known as the finance reserve which was made by the last general assembly of Illinois has been found to be unconstitutional leaving the state without funds for the purpose; and

"Whereas, the state will furnish to communities without expense the expert technical services of civil and sanitary engineers, officers of the military department and medical officers to assist in repairing damage to property and to public works and to restore communities in the affected districts to a safe and sanitary condition in conjunction with local relief committees with a view to preventing accidents and epidemics of disease which may naturally be expected to follow the injury to buildings, the destruction of sewage systems, the contamination of food, milk and water supplies and the general paralysis of local governmental functions;

"Now, therefore, I, Len Small, governor of Illinois in view of the conditions above set forth, do hereby designate and appoint a committee to be known as the Illinois Flood Relief Committee composed of the following named persons: chairman, Howard K. Weber, president of the First National Bank of Springfield; Louis L. Emmerson, president of the Third National Bank of Mt. Vernon; Joseph F. Bunn, vice president of the Springfield Marine Bank; V. Y. Dallman of the Illinois State Register, and S. Leigh Call, of the Illinois State Journal, and I appeal to all the people of Illinois and to all county, municipal, religious, civic and fraternal bodies thruout the state for contributions of money to meet the urgent needs of our destitute fellow citizens in the flood districts; and I suggest that the funds so contributed be forwarded to the chairman of the above named committee by check made payable to his order and I further designate General Carlos E. Black, Adjutant General of Illinois, as executive and fiscal officer of the committee to act under its direction in the work of relief and in the proper disbursement and accounting of funds which may be donated for flood relief purposes.

(Signed)
"Len Small, Governor."

EDITORIALS ARE CAUSE OF KILLING IN COLORADO TOWN

Editors of Rival Papers of Durango Go Back to Old Methods

(By The Associated Press)

DURANGO, Colo., April 24.—W. L. Wood, city editor of the Durango Herald was shot and killed today by R. S. Day, editor of the Durango Democrat, following, it is said, trouble which arose from editorials in the two papers. Day gave himself up after the shooting, which occurred on one of the main streets and is held at the sheriff's office. He declined to make a statement and no witnesses to the killing have been found.

The trouble is said to have begun when the Herald printed an article from another Colorado newspaper which declared the Democrat was one of the few papers in the country fighting the eighteenth amendment. After the exchange of editorial comment had been going on for a week it became personal.

When Day and Wood met to-day the latter is alleged to have struck with some unknown weapon breaking Day's nose. Day is alleged to have then drawn a revolver and to have fired two shots. Wood died an hour later.

TWENTY FOUR HOUR STRIKE IN DUBLIN ENDED LAST NIGHT

Denial Made of Intention to Form Workers' Republic

(By The Associated Press)

Dublin, April 24.—The 24-hour strike terminated at 9 o'clock tonight with three gigantic demonstrations held to mark approval of labor's protest against militarism. There were no disorders in connection with the strike but a mild sensation created by placards posted thruout the city proclaiming an Irish workers' republic.

An investigation proved that the proclamation was bogus.

The object of the proclamation apparently was to detract from the success of labor's protest and alienate the sympathy of the employers by suggesting that the labor party had engineered the strike with the purpose of establishing a soviet. Men and women of all classes assembled in thousands this evening and listened to prominent laborites who explained in strong language that the people did not intend to submit to the rule of the gun. The speakers pleaded for unity in the command of the army.

"What we have to guard against in the present grave situation," said Tom Johnson, secretary of the Irish labor party in his speech, "is counter revolution."

From these words Johnson's auditors seemed to infer that the Irish labor party does not approve of and will not be a party to any form of revolution. Thruout the day a holiday spirit prevailed the people accepting the situation with the utmost good humor. There was no tram or railway traffic in the streets and no communication by telephone or telegraph.

Guests Work in Hotels.

Numerous amusing incidents occurred during the day. At the hotels, where the staffs ceased work at 11 o'clock some of the guests became cooks and others waiters and waitresses. The hour picked for the termination of the strike this evening coincided with the sixth anniversary of the Easter uprising of 1916.

Numerous citizens had been apprehensive of possible trouble tonight and considerable excitement prevailed when the placards were posted proclaiming a workers' republic. The proclamation said in part:

"The Irish Labor party and the Irish Socialist party organizations having decided that the hour has struck for the emancipation of Irish workers from the chains of capitalism both native and foreign have declared an Irish workers' republic and call upon the working classes to seize power and set up workers' councils in every town and village in Ireland."

Continuing the proclamation said the Bourgeoisie politicians had plunged the country into a state of chaos and that with their armed bands they were terrorizing the plain people.

The signatures of six prominent laborites were appended, including that of Tom Johnson. Mr. Johnson said the labor party knew nothing about the proclamation.

Mr. Morgan indicated that the proposed loan to Germany would be a popular loan to which the people of the United States and other allied countries would be asked to subscribe. With good terms and on good security, he said, he believed such a loan could be placed.

CLAIM FORMER SUB CHASERS ARE USED TO SMUGGLE LIQUOR

Nab Fidus in New York Harbor After She Has Passed Quarantine—Captain Tells a
Wild Story of Piracy on the High Seas—
Says Cargo and Manifest are Both Taken

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Custom officials announced today that they were working to smash a rich bootlegger ring which they charged had mobilized a fleet of former submarine chasers to the creation of America's "dry navy."

The federal agents are working on the theory that the swift craft that once pursued German U-Boats and were sold after the war now are posing as naval vessels and commanded by officers in the uniform of the United States have succeeded in running $3,000,000 worth of rum into the United States from Bermuda and Havana.

The announcement of the discovery of alleged smuggling scheme was made after former submarine chaser 101, rechristened the Fidus, had been nabbed in New York harbor after she had passed quarantine and was darting toward a pier. Customs men claimed they had found aboard her numerous charts with marked landings along the Atlantic coast and the Hudson river.

No liquor was found aboard her and the crew told a hair-raising tale of having had their cargo plundered by pirates off Long Island coast yesterday. The ex-chaser said to bear British registry, was held on a technical charge that she left Bermuda without clearance papers. Her captain who gave his name as "John Kelly" and his crew of seven were taken to the custom house for a severe grilling.

After the examination assistant United States Attorney Falk said:

"Kelly wore the uniform of a United States naval officer. We have not made any charges against him and the crew."

"It is understood that the Fidus carried 2,000 cases of a choice Scotch whiskey from Bermuda and that is what we want to find out. The vessel failed to show on her manifest any cargo."

Federal agents who said they believed the name "John Kelly" fictitious, and that the captain's real name was M. Stanley Clarke of Brooklyn, intimated that there was a possibility that there might be brought against her captain a charge of wearing an ensign's uniform illegally.

Kelly who claimed at one time to have served in the United States navy denied he was wearing a naval uniform.

Says Pirates Stole Cargo
Kelly claimed to have been taking liquor to Montreal for a Bermuda wine merchant who owned the craft when pirates on another chaser stole his cargo and manifest.

The story of the piratical raid off Montauk Point was the greatest thriller that had been brought into port in many a day—but the customs officials claimed to have detected points at which the tale as related by different members of the crew did not gibe.

Mr. Falk quoted the version of Chief Engineer Lockwood as follows:

"We were all below at 6 o'clock. A bell was given us to stop and we stalled the engines. A gang of men, all unmasked, swarmed down on us and pointing revolvers at us backed us into a small compartment in the engine room."

Half an hour later according to Lockwood a seaman ventured above and saw Kelly tied to the mast head and foot. Lockwood claimed to have untied the knots himself. The liquor was gone.

The story told by Kelly to Mr. Falk was that he was asleep below when the Fidus was boarded. Lockwood had contended that the captain was on watch and had given him the bell signal to stop. Several of the seamen claimed to have heard several revolver shots but others heard no shooting.

Kelly said he and another person bought the vessel about two months ago and he was commanded to take it to Bermuda where it was sold to Harry Frith, millionaire wine merchant there. Frith, he said commanded him to take a cargo of liquor to Montreal and deliver it to Frith's agents.

"While we were on our way north," Kelly related, "another submarine chaser stopped us off Montauk. L. I. Sunday morning. A dozen men with revolvers boarded our vessel and I was bound. Two hours later my cargo had been removed and the other chaser was on its way."

TWENTY ONE RED CROSS WORKERS IN RELIEF WORK

Attending to Needs of Flood Sufferers
Along Illinois

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 24.—Twenty one Red Cross workers and nurses are actively engaged in relief work and approximately $25,000 has been expended by the American Red Cross for relief of flood sufferers along the Illinois and Mississippi rivers according to a report tonight of the Central Division of the American Red Cross.

The report states that 13,000 rations were dispatched to relieve the needs of sufferers at Naples in the Beardstown district, and that this supply was doubled yesterday by placing provisions as well as garments and cots on the Steamer Illinois, placed at the disposal of the Red Cross by the state. This steamer the report says is now plying up and down the river from Meredosia, passing out supplies and help wherever needed.

Red Cross workers are now attending to needs at Beardstown, Naples, Eldred, Meredosia, Pearl, Kampsville, Murphysboro, Jacob, Neunert, Cora City, Anna, Fayetteville and Cairo in addition to the workers in the tornado district at Centralia, the report says.

Find New Sufferers

Beardstown, April 24.—Coasting down the flooded Illinois river in search of flood refugees needing assistance, Captain Malloy and his Chicago coast guards today reported back to Captain F. R. Brewer, directing Salvation Army relief here, that 100 homeless families, tented near the town of Pearl in Pike county have almost exhausted their food supply and are in immediate need.

Captain Brewer communicated the information to Grant Burger, field officer of the Red Cross now in Beardstown, and announced that relief would reach (Continued on Page Four.)

The state of Massachusetts not long since purchased $200,000 of Missouri bonds. That action on the part of the eastern state indicated some interest in the project and also a feeling of security that the Missouri bonds are good.

The government thus far has shown no great concern in the coal strike situation, but it is probably keeping its "eye open" nevertheless. A department officer said significantly recently when commenting upon the situation that it begins to look certain that coal must be considered a public utility and at least come in for a share of more government supervision than it has had in the past.

Someone has come forward with the comment that after Mr. Hayes as postmaster general determined upon and announced the use of marines for the guarding of mail trains, that the popularity of postal hold-ups immediately dwindled. In fact, a robbery of this kind is now classed among the lost arts. It was that action and others of similar force that have given people the belief that Mr. Hayes as director of the moves can be counted upon to provide the necessary action when emergencies arise.

Talking about bonds brings to mind the fact that the Journal Sunday morning carried the advertisement of someone who wished to purchase water bonds of the city of Jacksonville.

That is certainly a gratifying instance, one of several that have occurred in recent months to show the standing of the city's credit. It is not a matter of difficult memory to turn back to the time when Jacksonville bonds were not looked upon with great favor. Now they are in demand, a fact which will be helpful if at some future time this city has occasion to offer bonds for sale with the view of developing some improvement project.

Now the word "flapper" has been variously defined and still the meaning is not definite and clear. On one thing we can agree, that the word these days is very much overworked.

In thinking about the flood relief fund and its necessity it is well to remember that while subscriptions are to be made comparatively near by sufferers, this is by no means a local matter. The flood area extends from the northern states clear down to New Orleans. The property losses have already run into millions of dollars.

THE CITY COUNCIL
The re-organized city council will take up its work soon, as Thomas Flynn, Basil Sorrells, W. T. Harmon and T. A. Chapin were last night officially declared elected. Of this group, Alderman Flynn returns to the council as one of the representatives of the first ward. He has given proof of an earnest purpose to serve his ward and the people as a whole well, and has been an efficient alderman.

The representative from the fourth ward is also a returned councilman, Troy A. Chapin. It is a matter of common knowledge that because of special technical training and wide business experience Mr. Chapin is a very valuable member of the council. As a city official he is giving services that money could hardly buy.

The new aldermen are Basil Sorrells of the second ward and William T. Harmon of the third ward. Both are young men of high standing and the interest that they have manifested in public affairs gives reason for the expectation that they are ready and willing to put in their best efforts "for Jacksonville." They can be counted on to work with the other aldermen in a way to make possible the continuance of the very unusual spirit of co-operation which has characterized the city council for the past few years.

RISE OF ADVERTISING
(From the Outlook)
According to so good an authority as the eleventh edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, the first known newspaper advertisement appeared in London in April 1647.

It sought purchasers for a book entitled "The Divine Right of Church Government" which the reader was informed, might be had at the sign of the Golden Fleece in the Old Change—not an inappropriate name for some book shops of the present day where indiscriminating purchasers are fleeced into buying popular "best sellers" whose only merit is that they bring a golden stream into the coffers of the publishers.

Beginning with the paid announcements of books, newspapers and periodical advertising rapidly fell into the hands of quacks and fakers and acquired a notoriety and disrepute that made honorable and scrupulous men look upon it with distrust and aversion. Advertising came to be regarded as a synonym for quackery or puffery.

After then the usual forces of social evolution began to assert themselves. The men livelihood depended on advertising began to realize the true function of advertising as a handmaid of commerce and set in motion reforms in business methods and the enactment of laws which were not imposed on advertising managers, but were inaugurated by them—which have made the advertising agent and solicitor really a professional man with an organized code of ethics as strict as that of the lawyers or physician.

Bureaus of research have been established to investigate the statements of advertisements submitted for publication, and one great American periodical, whose advertising pages may be literally called a national bulletin of American industry news, maintains a chemical laboratory to test scientifically the claims made for merchandise offered to the public in its advertising pages.

FLICKWIR FUNERAL AT BEARDSTOWN

Large Gathering Sunday For Final Rites In Memory of Former Cass County Resident.

The interment of Mrs. Rebecca C. Flickwir, formerly of Beardstown, who passed away at her home in Primero, Colo., last Tuesday, took place at Beardstown on Sunday.

By reason of the prevailing floor conditions there it was impossible to hold funeral services in the Congregational church of which she was for many years a beloved member, nor could they be held at the old home of her parents, now the home of her sister, Mrs. W. D. Epler. The remains arrived by way of the Burlington from St. Louis at noon Sunday, accompanied by her sons, J. W. and Joseph Flickwir, and her daughter, Mrs. Wallace. Her brother, Dr. Frank P. Norbury and nephew Dr. Garm Norbury and Earl Epler of this city met the train at Chapin.

Immediately upon arrival of the train in Beardstown, the funeral cortege followed to Oak Grove cemetery in automobiles. This was possible as this east portion of the city was not submerged. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Bedoes of the Congregational church. Here, with the cemetery partially surrounded by water, with the fruit trees in an adjacent orchard, while submerged up to their branches were in full bloom, with a bevy of black birds along the waters edge, with squirrels in the trees and rabbits flipping about the ground and with the buoyancy of spring in the air, was held in the open, a most impressive service.

The theme of which was the spirit of service, with its incalculable blessings of which the life of Mrs. Flickwir was an example. A prayer was read by Rev. Bedoes, which she had selected and which was read to her at her request on Easter evening, just before she passed into unconsciousness. A prayer dedicated to the aged, (Mrs. Flickwir was 82 years of age).

Then followed remarks by the pastor, and a recitation by him of a poem typifying the divinity and greatness of opportunities and privileges which shape the destiny of men. The music was by the quartet choir of the Congregational church. The pall bearers were friends, some of whom had been pupils of Mrs. Flickwir in the Sunday-school with which she was so long associated.

After the services the relatives and friends returned to the city and sought their homes in boats, or by wading the water in high boots, which many, including the pastor and the choir were compelled to wear.

Surviving Mrs. Flickwir are her sons, J. W. and D. H. Flickwir of Los Angeles, Cal., Joseph of Primero, Colo., Dr. Arthur H. of Houston, Texas and her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace of St. Paul, Minn. Her sisters, Mrs. O. H. Kuechler, San Rafael, Cal., Miss Elizabeth Norbury, Denver, Colo., Mrs. W. D. Epler, Beardstown, Mrs. G. B. Hegardt, Portland, Ore., and her brother, Dr. Frank P. Norbury of this city. There are a number of grand children, three great grand children and many nieces and nephews.

LOCAL COMPANY MAKES DONATION

A very commendable donation for the pleasure and comfort of flood sufferers in the district adjacent to Jacksonville was made Monday night by the Princess Candy company, of this city, and consists of twelve hundred four-ounce peanut bars, making a total of three hundred pounds of nutritious sweets that are certain to be appreciated by those whose diet necessarily has been somewhat restricted as to variety. Mr. Generoso of the Princess Candy company said Monday night that this lot is being especially prepared and will contain an extra amount of nut meats so as to furnish all the nourishment possible.

The distribution will be made thru the Jacksonville Relief organization, the amounts designated to each town being as follows: Beardstown, 500; Naples, 400, and Meredosia, 200 bars.

ETHEL ZACHARY DIES IN FLORIDA

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zachary Succumbs After Brief Illness of Pneumonia—Body Will Be Brought Here for Burial.

O. F. Conklin of Mound avenue received a telegram yesterday from M. S. Zachary at St. Petersburg, Florida, bringing the sad news of the death of his youngest child, Ethel Minnie, who passed away early Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Zachary are spending the winter in St. Petersburg and several weeks ago the little girl was taken sick. She recovered but was left in such a weakened condition that when she contracted pneumonia several days ago, she did not rally and death resulted.

Ethel Minnie Zachary was about four years old at the time of her death. She was born in Jacksonville and had always made her home here. Mr. and Mrs. Zachary and the other members of the family will arrive in the city with the remains on the afternoon of Thursday. Funeral arrangements have not been completed as yet.

GREAT BUILDING IS TO HOUSE LAWYERS OFFICES

F. C. Tanner Is Head of Bar Organization Which Plans New York Edifice.

Frederick C. Tanner, a former resident in whom Jacksonville has reason for great pride, has recently become the head of the Bar Building, Inc. This is a newly organized company to erect a modern office building planned exclusively for lawyers. The New York Herald said not long ago that the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, having found its present headquarters at 42 West 44th street inadequate, had decided upon extension to relieve the congestion of its ever increasing membership.

The Herald went to further explain the project in presenting the following facts:

To meet the emergency it has decided to improve the property owned by the association, which adjoins it on the east and extends through from Forty-third to Forty-fourth street. The area contains something more than 11,000 square feet, with a frontage on Forty-third street of 67.8 feet and a frontage on Forty-fourth street of 44.4 feet.

This property was recently transferred to a subsidiary corporation known as the Forty-two West Forty-fourth Street Corporation, in order to facilitate the scheme of improvement. Negotiations have just been completed with the Bar Building, Inc., a newly organized company, headed by Frederick C. Tanner, attorney at law, recently chairman of the Republican State Committee of New York and H. Craig Severance, architect, senior member of the firm of Severance & Van Allen. This corporation has taken over the holdings of the Forty-two West Forty-fourth Street Corporation on a twenty-one year lease.

On this site the losses will at once begin the construction of a high class office building, four-story in height, which will have direct connection with the present house of the association. A grand concourse will connect the entrances at Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets.

The Bar Association will occupy two entire floors (about 18,000 square feet) in the new building. These two floors will be conjoined to the House of the Bar by direct corridors. The balance of the office space will be offered to members of the New York Bar.

The land falling under this lease is valued at $500,000. The improvements will cost approximately $1,200,000, making a total of $1,700,000. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has made a building and permanent loan of $850,000 on the property.

In addition to 120,000 square feet of office space there is one store extending along the grand concourse from Forty-third to Forty-fourth street which contains 6,500 square feet and 3,000 square feet of mezzanine space, a smaller store (650 square feet) with mezzanine on Forty-fourth street, and half a dozen booths.

The architects, Severance & Van Allen, have designed a pile which will harmonize with the stately edifice of the Bar Association Building proper. Due to the surrounding physical conditions the building will have light and air on all four sides.

As there is a marked tendency on the part of lawyers to remove to the Grand Central section and considerable agitation for an office building devoted to the exclusive uses of attorneys there is no question but that the Bar Building will be a welcome innovation.

Demolition of the old buildings will be started January 1. The new structure will be ready for occupancy October 1, 1922. Charles L. Fraser has been awarded the building contract. The Bar Building, Inc., located at 372 Lexington avenue, will assure direct management of the property.

The first Flood Relief Money will be sent out by the Jacksonville Committee Monday. The Committee and Workers are straining every effort to secure sufficient money in order that these checks to Beardstown and Naples will be substantial ones.

The workers who are to make the canvass for flood relief met at the chamber of commerce headquarters Monday morning. The plan of work was outlined and shortly afterward the men and women started out to cover the territory assigned them.

Altho the meeting was largely attended and there was plenty of enthusiasm, some of the workers were unable to be present, but sent word that they would begin their work without fail today.

Subscriptions were pouring in to the Chamber of Commerce all day yesterday with returns from some of the business districts and all of the wards still incomplete.

Reports from several districts in the fourth ward received late last night indicated $94.00 subscribed with the majority of the workers to hear from.

Rain did not stop the ladies working in the wards. They kept up their solicitation through out the day with the hope of completing their work by this afternoon. Reports received yesterday from the following districts show that the help is greatly needed.

An address by Rev. W. H. Marbach was the feature of the program, when the speaker told of his trip thru Cairo, making it the more interesting by the use of a stereopticon.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Strong

Foster, Oregon. "I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains across the small of my back. They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the 'ad.' in our paper telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a testimonial. I will stand up for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound any time."

STUDENTS ENSEMBLE
RECITAL IS GIVEN

Students of College of Music Give Interesting Program Heard By An Appreciative Audience.

A most interesting concert of ensemble numbers in various combinations was given last night in Music Hall by students of the College of Music of Illinois Woman's college.

Many of those participating have been heard as soloists at previous recitals, last night they proved capable of excellent cooperation, giving much pleasure to an appreciative audience.

The Madrigal club, whose first concert was heard recently added much to last night's program by repeating several selections. The pieces chosen for the singers and instrumentalists ranged from the classics of Bach and Beethoven to the modern school which was represented by Grieg, Arensky and Puccini. The numbers for three and four violins marked a new departure in the ensemble work of the instrumental departments.

The performance of all selections showed careful preparation on the part of the teachers and enthusiastic response on the part of the pupils.

NAPLES NEEDS TOLD
IN LETTER FROM MAYOR

Mrs. Chambers Gives Graphic Picture of Flood Results—Food and Money Are Needed—Various Ways to Help Outlined.

Judging from a letter received from Mrs. John Chambers, mayor of Naples, while money is greatly needed, it is possible to help in other ways. Persons who are not in position to give money can offer services and supplies of food. In response to a statement made by Secretary Welch of the Chamber of Commerce Mrs. Chambers yesterday addressed a letter to the people of Jacksonville, explaining the situation. Some individual cases are cited to show the acute needs that have developed. Mrs. Chambers' letter read as follows:

A Letter From Naples.
"Naples, Ill., April 23, 1922.
"Mr. Harold Welch,
"Chamber of Commerce,
"Jacksonville, Ill.
"My Dear Sir:

"We are grateful for your offer to help the citizens of Naples, and in response to your request for information as to the exact situation here, we will try to give you the facts.

"The work for the victims of the flood is in charge of Mrs. John Chambers, Mayor, and The Naples Citizens Protective Association, H. G. Edward, chairman, Joseph May, secretary, and Merton H. Abbott, treasurer. Responsible to this association are the Nations Committee, consisting of Mrs. John Chambers, Dr. Emanuel Alvarez, Martin Hall, G. O. Parris, and the Committee on Relief and Rehabilitation consisting of Mrs. Merton H. Abbott, Mr. Ed. Watters, John Ritter and Mrs. Callie Hatfield and Mrs. Chambers.

"State authorities and the National Coast Guard have aided, but have now left this territory, and all work from the outside is being directed by the American Red Cross. The Central Division Headquarters of the American Red Cross have sent a representative, Miss Dorothy Williams, to have charge of their work at this point. The Division has sent in staple provisions sufficient to last two hundred people ten days more. The Salvation Army has also sent some food.

"Arrangements have been made whereby the State boat, 'The Illinois,' is to remain with headquarters at Meredosia, at the service of the Red Cross. All supplies and provisions can be loaded at Meredosia and transported to Naples and the other river towns as well by 'The Illinois.'

Several Ways to Help

There are several ways in which nearby cities could supplement the rations already sent in by the Red Cross. It is hard to get fresh meat, and it would be a splendid addition to the supplies if meat could be sent from Jacksonville once a week. Meredosia Red Cross has agreed to send in one hundred and fifty pounds of beef cut in three pound pieces once a week. If Jacksonville and Meredosia could arrange to alternate this service, or to co-operate in some way, it will be of great service to the people of Naples. Much bread and flour has been included in the Red Cross rations. If jams and jellies could be procured, they would furnish elements of diet lacking in the rations provided. Would it be possible to secure these from the individual families of Jacksonville? We thought this might be accomplished in connection with the house to house canvass we understand is to be made.

"In addition to supplies of food, money will be needed to supply other needs of families whose means of livelihood have been cut off by the flood. There is, for instance, a family of six children, the father and mother, whose living was made from a small patch of rented ground, which is all under water. The father and two boys went out of town when the water rose in an endeavor to obtain work elsewhere. The father is tubercular, and was taken sick while away and had to be brought back home. The two older boys, who are very bright in school, had to be taken out of high school and put to work. At present, however, there is no work for any of them and the family is entirely without means of support. Their house, which has been flooded as high as the door knobs, will be in need of plastering flooring and many repairs before it will be fit for occupancy, and there is no money on hand.

"Another family consisting of four children, father and mother, the father making a precarious living, in ordinary times, has now, of course, no employment and has been forced to sell his one boat which brought five dollars, to supply the needs of the family.

"The citizens of Naples will be most grateful for any aid you can furnish in this time of disaster.

"Very truly yours,
"Mrs. John Chambers, Mayor."

FIRE DEPARTMENT
HAD THREE ALARMS

The fire department responded to two alarms Sunday, and one Monday. At 10:15 o'clock Sunday morning the department made a run to the residence of Joe DeFrees, 600 North Diamond street where fire had started in the roof by sparks from a chimney. Considerable damage was done before the flames were brought under control.

At 9:30 o'clock Sunday the department responded to an alarm from the residence of George A. Moore, 645 East State street. This was a roof fire caused by sparks. The damage was small.

Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock the department made a run to the residence property at 509 Myrtle street. This property is owned by Thomas McBride and occupied by H. A. Colvin. Sparks had set fire to the roof but it was extinguished with but little damage.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

CAPT. JAMES WILL ATTEND MEETING

Is Gathering of Officers of Illinois National Guard—Lieut. Austin May Also Attend.

Capt. Wesley James of Jacksonville's Howitzer company will go to Chicago Friday, to attend the general meeting of commissioned officers of the Illinois National Guard at the 122nd field artillery armory. Lieut. Austin will probably accompany him.

Reorganization of the National Guard and plans for four day schools, which will be conducted at various points this summer for the National Guard Troop, will be the themes of discussion at the meeting. The officers will attend in full uniform, and will be guests at a luncheon.

Captain James has issued orders to all members of the local company to attend drill regularly from here on, as he wants the men in first class shape when they leave on the two trips, which are planned the coming summer.

The commissioned officers and 10 enlisted men of the local company will go to Camp Grant on June 15, to attend the four day school of instruction in charge of regular army officers. On July 15 the entire company will spend seventeen days at Camp Grant.

that they would be handled by a responsible Russian government.

Soviet Situation Difficult
The allied chiefs tonight frankly expressed their opinion that an arrangement with the soviet will be extremely difficult unless the Russian delegates show a reasonable attitude.

The experts adjourned sine die because of what they termed the excessive Russian demands which proposed also that the powers accept non-restoration of the private property of foreigners.

The Russian delegates assert that the terms they were willing to grant were constitutional, first on the recognition of their government and second, receipt of a loan from foreign countries. In addition to cancellation of arrears in interest on the pre-war debts the Russians demands a moratorium of 30 years on the pre-war debts themselves.

The Russians stated that restitution of property was contrary to their policy of nationalization but claimed that Russians had the right to possess property in foreign countries because these countries were under a bourgeois regime.

The breaking up of the experts meeting had caused depression. It is realized that the incident endangers the good results of the conference especially as the French premier's declaration that France would withdraw unless the Cannes resolutions were scrupulously adhered to.

challenged for cause; the third was excused because he could not understand English. The fourth man was excused for having a fixed opinion.

Martin O'Boyle a farmer came fifth and was tentatively passed by the state after he said he could try the governor with an impartial mind. The remaining seven men of the first 12 all were challenged, six for having fixed opinions and one because he couldn't understand English.

Court Has Hearty Laugh.
The court had a hearty laugh when Frank Popp, a young farmer, asked by the state if he had a fixed opinion pointed to the governor and said:

"You want to stick that guy in don't you?"

Goldschmidt, thirteenth man called to the box was passed by the state as was M. Ayres, a railroad employe who followed him.

Edward V. Price, eighteenth on the list was also passed by the state and the four were then turned over to the defense, under the Illinois law by which jurors are impeached in blocks of four.

The attorneys called a conference and then requested that the court excuse Mr. O'Boyle because of physical infirmities. The defense challenged Mr. Ayres for cause and when Mr. Price was excused by the court only one of the four remained in the box.

When court adjourned Mr. Peauben was questioning the twenty fifth man and was still trying to fill a new panel of four.

Both sides will hold a conference tomorrow in an effort to agree on several points of law which are expected to be raised. A fight is also expected tomorrow over the state's list of witnesses.

Mr. Mortimer presented a copy to the defense today, saying three new names had been added since a previous copy was delivered under an order from the court. Attorneys for the defense claim from 20 to 50 others appear on the new list that were not on the 1d.

Among the three referred to by Mr. Mortimer is the name of Vernon Curtis, fellow-defendant with the governor.

Mr. Curtis has been granted a separate trial. A bitter legal battle is expected the defense objecting to his being called as a witness against the governor.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The house provision in the annual army supply bill, providing $42,815,661 for river and harbor maintenance and development next year was approved today by a sub-committee of the senate appropriation committee which considered the measure.

SWIFT & CO. WEEKLY PRODUCE REVIEW

Unseasonable weather still holds back the marketing of poultry, butter and eggs by the producers, causing firm markets for each product.

The demand for live stock and dressed poultry is nominal and receipts about usual for this period of the year.

Butter production should increase rapidly from now on, and while the demand is extremely good, it is natural to expect lower prices.

As the demand for May storage eggs is not as good as for April's the prospects are that the egg market will work to a lower level by the first of May. This will be influenced to a certain extent by the production.

MANY DROVE INTO BEARDSTOWN AREA

Flooded Territory Was Mecca for Drivers Reached City as Visitors Are Not Desired—Engineer Makes Recommendations.

Many were the Jacksonville people who drove to the vicinity of Beardstown Sunday to get a view of flood conditions. Some of them followed the usual route through Greenville, while others drove to Viroqua and then west through Cass, Siding and Bluff Springs. Most travelers on both routes found the same destination—that is, about one mile east of Beardstown on the hard road. A few row boats were available there and a motor boat made regular trips. However, the patronage of the boats was not very heavy because it was learned that in order to see the flood conditions in Beardstown one must make two or three boat transfers and do some wading. In other words, the motor boats carried passengers only to a point near the railroad tracks and other boats must be used for further travel.

The number of sight-seers in Beardstown proper was further limited by the fact that the authorities there are discouraging visitors as much as possible. The C. B. & Q. will not sell a ticket to a passenger who does not live in Beardstown, unless there be some special reason for making the trip. This action has been taken partially because the railroad track over which the cars must pass is for a distance of three-fourths of a mile under more than a foot of water and it is not safe to move slowly and with some little chance of encountering a stretch where the road bed has been washed away or weakened.

Still another reason for this action by the road is the fact that visitors are not wanted, since their presence brings no assistance and in reality increases difficulties.

Recently at Beardstown A. D. Millard, a civil engineer, made an extensive survey and it is his charge that the fact that the sanitary district of Chicago is sending about 8,000 cubic feet of water from the lake per second is a definite factor in the flood conditions. However, it is his statement that it is realized that at present the sanitary district would be powerless to reduce the flow to any large extent, because such action would cut out water power, upon which many cities in northern Illinois are dependent for the operation of their light plants.

Mr. Millard in his report makes a number of recommendations in part as follows:

"First—Insist upon such federal supervision of the flow from the Chicago canal as never to exceed the approximately 4,000 cubic feet per second now permitted, since it appears that the state is unable to effectively control the flow.

"Second—Remove the artificial obstructions in the way of locks from the Illinois river, particularly the lock at LaGrange.

"Third—Protect Beardstown from inundation by a levee system together with an intercepting sewer and pump station to care for sanitary conditions in flood periods."

His survey of the flood situation shows the following:

"Sangamon river at Springfield, not quite bank full and falling.
"Salt creek at Lincoln, half bank full and falling.
"Kickapoo creek at Lawndale, half bank full and falling.
"Sugar creek at Funks' Grove, half bank full and falling.
"Money creek at Towanda, normal.

"Mackinaw river at Lexington, half bank full and falling.

"Rook's creek at Ocoya, half bank full and falling.

"Vermillion river at Pontiac, half bank full; apparently has not been out of its banks.

"Mazon river at Mazonia, normal.

"Prairie creek at Elwood, normal.

"Kankakee river at Wilmington, bank full but not overflowing."

Two funerals were held Sunday and for one of them it was necessary to use a boat for a hearse. The cemetery is located about 11 miles east of Beardstown on the hard road. The casket was taken by boat to a point about one-fourth mile distant from the cemetery and was transferred at the boat landing to a farm wagon.

COUNCIL CANVASSED CITY ELECTION RETURNS

Brief Talk Made By Aldermen Elect Sorrells and Harmon and Retiring Aldermen Flynn, Sorrells, Harmon and Chapin Declared the choice of the people. The new aldermen, Messrs. Sorrells and Harmon, were present. Alderman Cain, who is retiring because of his absence from the city for a few months.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night the returns of the recent election were canvassed and Aldermen Flynn, Sorrells, Harmon and Chapin declared the choice of the people. The new aldermen, Messrs. Sorrells and Harmon, were present. Alderman Cain, who is retiring because of his absence from the city for a few months.

The roll call by City Clerk Scott showed the presence of Mayor Crabtree, Aldermen McGinnis, Loneragan, Chapin, Flynn and Rowe. Announcement was made by Alderman McGinnis of the fire committee of the appointment to the fire department of Theodore Loneragan and Carl Cokeley. The latter takes the place of Clyde Sanders, who recently resigned to take a position in Springfield, J. W. Catherwood of the department is to be general utility mechanic and will look after the work on the department apparatus and the cars and certain equipment in the water, light and police departments. It is believed this plan of work will result in a saving of some money.

A report was made with reference to North Main street sewer by City Engineer E. M. Henderson, who said that additional cracks in the sewer pipes are being found from day to day and that the job of repairing the sewer is tedious and expensive.

The question of the further employment of a motorcycle policeman was left to Mayor Crabtree and the police committee. Raymond Hogan, who has been serving as motorcycle cop, has practically worn out his machine in the city service. It will be necessary for the city to either purchase and own a motorcycle or to employ another officer who has one.

Talks From Aldermen

Alderman Harmon was called upon and said that he was glad to have the opportunity presented by city council service for learning more about city affairs, and that he was willing to do all within his power to look after the interests of the city in the proper way.

Mr. Sorrells also spoke briefly and said that he was younger than a number of men in the council and had a great many things to learn, and would appreciate the advice and assistance of his associates. He said that he could be relied upon to co-operate with the other aldermen for the good of Jacksonville.

Alderman Cain spoke of the pleasure it had been to serve in the council, where there were no secret caucuses and everything was done in a co-operative and friendly way. It was a matter of regret to him that temporary absence from the city made it advisable for him to retire from council service.

Mayor Crabtree replied on behalf of the council and said that all of the aldermen regretted his going, that they had found him always a loyal co-worker and genuinely interested in the welfare of the city.

MYERS BROTHERS

OVER SIX HUNDRED LOADS ON RUBBISH PILE

Large Amount of Work Done During Cleanup Week—Still Huge Amount of Work for Contractor—Residents Urged to Help.

When twenty men and fifteen teams have worked one solid week and have hauled ashes every day at the rate of from six to twelve loads per day it would look like some showing should be made in the city's ash pile. The only showing that appears on the surface is the huge fill in the Andros lot on South East street and the King lot on South Church street.

Monday morning last week the teams started to work in the rain at the east end of East State street and went straight thru to the west city limits. Then they turned back on College avenue, West College street and the intersecting streets. The can wagon followed them up. The idea has been to get the larger houses out of the way first and yet not be partial to any part of the town.

So far the contractor has hauled five hundred and eighty-five loads of ashes and fifty loads of tin cans. When we say loads of tin cans we mean one of large wagon loads in a wagon box like Mr. Cherry used to haul his stable refuse in. It requires three men on this wagon, one to drive and two to hoist the containers.

Think of it people. Go down where this material is dumped and then wonder what the pile would be if this city was not as economical as it is. Another thing this department is not required to haul the ashes from the churches, but the church has not been passed up. At one of the city churches it required ten wagons to move the pile. At one residence on East College avenue the ashes from two years was removed and one year from a house on Grove street. Mayor Crabtree has been strict in having every thing cleaned up clean and has instructed Mr. Bucktorpe to play no favorites and go thru the whole town.

The prospect now is that the wagons will clean the east and west paved streets by Tuesday and the work in the North and South streets will not be nearly so hard.

The contractor said yesterday: "We are telling you this so that you may know that the work is hard and it takes lots of time. A great many people with mud holes in alleys in the rear of their lots could help the work fine by shoveling their ashes into these mud holes. In a great many cases Mr. White has given the contractor permission to fill some of the low places. Just a little patience and help the city departments and the whole thing will get covered. The table garbage truck goes every day in the week and as this is very important on account of approaching fly time, you will confer a favor by phoning about any inattention."

ILLINOIS COAL IS WONDERFUL ASSET

Development has been wonderful thing since 1840-Franklin county produces more coal than any county in the world.

Chicago—Illinois coal mining industry, closing of which April 1 by the nation-wide strike threw 90,000 miners and several thousand employes out of work.

is one of the wonder developments of the state.

The 1840 United States census credits coal mining in Illinois with a capitalization of $120,076, with 152 employees and an annual production of 427,187 bushels of coal.

The 1920 census lists 928 mines, with an annual production of 73,920,653 tons.

One Illinois county alone—Franklin—producing more coal than any other county in the world, turns out 12,000,000 tons yearly, and has an annual payroll to miners of $17,500,000.

The first discovery of coal in the United States was in Illinois. Joliet and Marquette, the two French explorers reported the discovery of coal in what is now Illinois in the year 1673, and a map published with Marquette's Journal in 1681 shows coal deposits near the present city of Utica, Ill. Father Louis Hennepin, a Recollect priest, accompanied LaSalle's expedition to the Illinois country in 1680 as chaplain, and in his book "A new Discovery of a Large Country in America," published in England in 1689, he tells of the location of deposits of coal, slate and iron along the Illinois river.

It was in the northern part of the state that the earliest development occurred, the coal beds lying so near the surface that it was only necessary to plow off the loose prairie soil, and stripping operators were conducted here long before they were known in other sections.

Early mining operations were confined to deposits adjacent to navigable water courses, as it was impossible to transport coal overland for any great distance. The opening of the Illinois Michigan canal in 1848 was the beginning of better transportation conditions.

The first railroad in the state was a coal carrier, a six mile track across the American Bottom, built in 1837 from the confluence of the Kaskaskia River and extending northwardly to the mouth of the Missouri. The American Bottom at that time formed part of the western boundary of the United States.

With the spread of railroads mining increased, the railway companies being prime movers in the effort to develop coal for their engines. By 1860 Illinois had 73 mines producing 528,406 tons annually, valued at $1,285,500, and employing 1,436 men and boys. In 1870 the output had increased to 2,000,000 tons and ten years later reached 6,000,000 tons annually.

For many years LaSalle and St. Clair counties were the great coal producers. In 1892, 1895 and 1896 Macoupin county produced more than either. In 1897 Vermilion, Macoupin and Sagamon counties produced more than LaSalle and St. Clair.

In 1897 Williamson county came into line for promotion with a 12 foot seam lying close to the surface. By 1905 this county was third in production, but development of Franklin county as the world's record holder had already started with the opening of three mines, the first in 1904. This was Bell and Zoller mine, at Zeigler, but its development was retarded for three years by the open shop question. It finally was unionized, and in March of this year captured, and held for a few days, the world's record for tonnage mined in a single eight hour day. The Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin company's mine at Orient, which had held the title for several years, recaptured it just a week before the present strike started by mining 174 cars of coal—8,210 tons—in one day.

The annual output of the 26 mines in Franklin county would fill a train of cars 3,000 miles long, although this county became a producer only 18 years ago. One day's output fills a train 15 miles long. The Franklin county mines employ 12,250 men when all are working. Twenty-two years ago West Frankfort, one of the principal mining centers of the district, was not mentioned in the census. In 1920 it had a population of 20,000. Franklin county is the only county east of the Mississippi that showed an increase in population of more than 100 percent in the 1910-1920 decade.

Christopher, another mining village in Franklin county, was the point of origin of more freight than any other city on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad last year not even excepting Chicago.

WILL RECONSTRUCT HISTORIC BUILDINGS

Iowa State Park Commission Will Reconstruct Fort Atkinson—Was Laid Out in 1840.

FORT ATKINSON, Iowa.—Reconstruction of the remaining buildings of historic Fort Atkinson will be undertaken this spring by the state park commission. This action will mark the culmination of twenty years labor on the part of prominent Iowans with a view to restoration of the old fort and beautifying the surrounding acreage and utilizing it as a state park.

The fort was one of the first erected in Iowa, its construction being authorized by act of congress in 1840. When the nineteenth century was still young the tide of civilization crossed the Mississippi river from Fort Crawford at Prairie du Chien, which was the only fully garrisoned military establishment on the upper river.

The Iowa plains west of Fort Crawford were the abode of various tribes of Indians, including the Sioux, Sauks, Foxes and Winnebagoes. With the exception of the Winnebagoes, the redmen resented the intrusion of the white settlers, and as a result of incessant attacks on the Winnebagoes, as well as the white men, congress decided to erect a fort in northwestern Iowa.

Work was begun on the military reservation on June 2, 1840. The military trail was established as far west as the Turkey river, where a temporary garrison, consisting of Company F, Fifth Infantry, under Captain Isaac Lynde, was encamped. Seven hundred Winnebagoes spent a year in this temporary encampment.

In June 1841, Company B, of the first United States Dragoons, under Captain Edwin V. Summers joined the Lynde troops and moved on to the new fort.

A blockade topped the hills that commanded a beautiful valley—that of the Turkey river. A military road was built to Prairie du Chien. In 1845 Captain Allen's company of dragoons came up from Fort Des Moines, with Captain Summer's troops, spent three months holding councils with the Indians in quest of tribal peace. In 1846 the soldiers were withdrawn from Fort Atkinson, for use in the Mexican war. Volunteer troops—Iowa's first national guard took their places. In 1849 the fort was abandoned, and four years later it was sold at auction for $3,000, against the original cost of $90,000.

Subsequent sales to individuals split the reservation into small parcels, and three buildings now remain of the original fort.

Twenty years ago an effort was made to preserve the historic fort, but it was a failure. About two years ago prominent Iowans while on an automobile tour of northwestern Iowa, spent a day at the fort. They found one of the buildings utilized as a farmer's home, another was the abode of pigs, while the third was housing a flock of chickens. Aid of the Greater Iowa Association was enlisted and a campaign started which resulted in a state-wide movement for conservation of the fort site into a state park.

Fort Atkinson, a village of 235 inhabitants, raised $2,000 toward a fund for the purchase of the grounds and buildings and the state Board of Conservation was induced to set aside a like sum. Private subscriptions raised the total amount necessary and the property was bought last year.

Further sums have been pledged by the state and work on the state park begun the first part of April. The original reservation of three acres has been enlarged to about forty acres. The old buildings will be restored as nearly as possible to their original state, and converted into depositories for historical relics and monuments of pioneer days.

CALENDARS AND CLOCKS LUXURIES

SCUTARI, Albania—Calendars and clocks are luxuries in Albania. The untutored peasantry know only three periods of time—morning, noon and night, and two seasons of the year, winter and summer. Days and dates are Sanskrit to them. Nor have they any conception of distances. When a traveler asks an Albanian the distance of one point from another, he never answers in miles or kilometers but "It is half a day, it is two days, it is a week." When an Albanian makes an appointment, he is considered to have kept it if he comes within two or three hours of the time set.

With the absence of calendars the people naturally do not know their correct ages, especially those in the country districts. In this respect travel in Albania enjoys an advantage over their sisters in foreign countries who guard so jealously the secret of their years. Often the age of an Albanian woman is unknown even to herself.

MUCH RAIN FELL DURING MARCH

More than in any March in the last forty years—ice gorge causes damage

Springfield Ill.—More rain fell on Illinois in March 1922, than any other March in 45 years, with the exception of one, according to the monthly summary of climatological data, prepared and published here today by Meteorologist Clarence J. Root of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The month was moderately warm, with deficient sunshine, but the outstanding meteorological feature was the heavy precipitation, the report said. "The average for the state was more than twice the normal amount, and was, with no exception the greatest March average in more than 45 years. The number of days with precipitation equaled the previous record. Individual March precipitation records were exceeded at ten stations. At Chicago, the snowfall of the winter was less than one-third of the normal. An ice gorge in Rock River caused $50,000 damage at Dixon. The gas and electric plants were forced to suspend operations, and a number of families left their homes. The gorge was 13 miles long.

"The flood reached its crest on the 2d. Three to four inches of rain fell throughout the south half of the central division on the 14th. Freshets occurred in the smaller streams, reaching unusually high stages in some cases. A farmer was drowned in Shelby county, but the property damage was not great. The new lake at Decatur was filled.

"After the rain of the 14th, showers were frequent occurrence, and most of the month's precipitation occurred during that period. The last week was especially rainy. The ground became saturated, causing a rapid run-off. The water gradually rose in the larger streams and before the close of the month the Sangamon, Kaskaski, Little Wabash, and many lesser streams in central and southern Illinois were in flood.

The Ohio and Wabash rivers were above flood stage throughout the latter half of the month. Some homes were abandoned in Petersburg and Taylorville and Harrisburg were surrounded by water. It is not believed that the property damage, other than to crops, was very great, but railroads were somewhat inconvenienced in the operation of trains. Winter wheat made fine growth and was in excellent condition, but in the lowlands much of it was inundated. The wet soil and frequent rains made field work almost impossible, and only a very small amount of oats and spring wheat was seeded. Fruit trees were in bloom in the north-east part of the state on the 3th and 31th. In Lake and McHenry counties there was damage to trees and poles, and electric service was crippled.

Minor Wind Damage
On the 14th there was minor wind damage at Hillsboro, Springfield and White Hall. The roads were in especially bad condition during the latter half of the month. Two earthquake shocks were felt throughout several of the more southern counties on the 22nd, and another shock occurred at Cario on the 30th.

The temperature was continuously above normal from the 8th to 19th. It was 10 degrees to 16 degrees above on the 6th, 9th, 13th, 18th and 23rd to 25th, and 11 degrees below normal on the 31st. The highest station readings occurred on several dates and ranged from 63 degrees to 78 degrees. The lowest station readings occurred generally on the 1st and 3rd, and ranged from 7 degrees to 22 degrees.

The precipitation totals generally were 3 to 4 inches in the northern, 4 to 10 inches in the central, and 6 to 12 inches in the southern division. The greatest amounts fell in the vicinity of the Ozark Hills. The precipitation was above normal at all stations, the departures reaching 6 to 7 inches at some places in the central and southern counties. The principal precipitation period were the 1st, about the 10th 13th, 14th, 18th, 19th, and 24th to 31st. Heavy individual falls occurred on the 14th and 30th.

The snowfall totals ranged from a trace to 7 inches, and varied considerably even between the greatest in the central division and least in the northern.

Individual falls of 1.0 inch or more were confined to the 1st in the southern division, and the 1st and 31st in the other divisions. The snow of the 1st remained on the ground from one to three days. The percentage of the normal amounts by divisions is as follows: north, 40; central, 95; south, 100.

MEXICO IS HUNTER'S PARADISE

MEXICO CITY.—(By the A. P.) A hunter's paradise is Mexico and almost within sight of the capital are forests that abound in wild game, offered at all seasons in the Mexico City markets.

Venison is a staple and wild ducks and geese may be purchased for a few centavos. Live quail as well as varieties of pheasants and pigeons are sold on the streets by peddlers. Indians from the hills frequently trudge to the city with a wild boar and turkeys may be had for the price of a paltry tip to a native hunter.

If one is so inclined a tender money may be procured for Sunday baking—a dish that Mexican epicures, especially of the tropical regions, relish above all others.

A bit further removed from Mexico City lie the jungles of Vera Cruz and Guerrero where tigers, leopards and even small lions make their home. Sportsmen who have visited these regions assert the hunting is as good there as is to be found in Africa.

CHAMINADE CLUB IN LAST MEETING OF YEAR

The Chaminade Club held the last regular meeting of the year yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Virginia Vasey on West North street. At this time a report of the officers was given and it was shown that the year just passed had been one of the most successful that the club has ever had. The general subject of study this season has been "Musical Form" and fourteen excellent programs have been given including the Symphony, Sonata, Ballet Music, the Symphonic Poem, Operas and other musical forms.

The club library now has a total of 685 different songs, piano pieces, concertos, and collections of music. During the year music publishers of the country have given many complimentary artist copies of American songs and piano pieces to the club to be used for the club programs in order to introduce them to the public. These are secured through the National Federation of Music Clubs with which the Chaminade club is affiliated.

The program for yesterday was composed of the works of modern American women composers and was given as follows:

MOTION PICTURES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

A two reel picture was shown to the students in the science and agriculture classes at the high school yesterday afternoon, showing the different processes involved in the production of raw meat. The film is released by Swift and company and show the meat packing business from the time the stock is fed on the Texas ranch, later taken to the feed lots in Illinois and Indiana, then to the stock yards, and from there to the breakfast table.

A WOMAN'S BACK

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains. Ofttimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective. Many Jacksonville women know this. Ask your neighbor! Read what one has to say about it.

Mrs. H. F. Garrett, 332 W. Church St., says: "I had a weak back and a dull ache seemed to settle in the small of my back. After I had done a hard day's work a terrible dragging pain would just make me miserable. I suffered a lot with my back. My kidneys acted irregularly. I was also nervous at these times. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so I started using them and they lost no time in relieving me. I was soon rid of the trouble. I have not had to use Doan's in some time as my cure is a lasting one."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Garrett had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

A new standard of battery value!

Just look that price mark over, figure for figure, and consider that it is teamed up with the Prest-O-Lite name and trademark. Just think what you can get. This fine top-quality battery for as low as $19.90 (trade-in price) for popular makes of light Ford cars. Prices of other types are correspondingly low.

These are regular Prest-O-Lite Batteries with the backbone of the famous Prest-O-Plates.

Plates of unusual hardness, combined with high porosity, which explains their ready delivery of power in cold weather, and non-buckling, heat-resisting strength in summer.

Every battery is backed by the regular Prest-O-Lite guarantee, a definite, generous obligation, plus a spirit that says the car owner must be pleased.

This spirit of obligation is carried out by Prest-O-Lite Service, the oldest organized service to motorists. No matter what battery you have, come around and use our service. If your battery's pulse is low, our specialists will prescribe the right tonic for it. We'll do everything we can to bring the utmost service from it.

RED CROSS WORKERS GO TO MEREDOSIA

Local People Will Take Steamer Illinois to Aid in Relief Work—Suffering in Isolated Places

A number of Red Cross workers left here yesterday morning for Meredosia where they were to embark on the "Illinois," a ship that has been chartered for Red Cross relief work along the flooded regions of the Illinois river. Miss Jacobina Riecke, Morgan County Red Cross nurse; Miss Grace Carter, chairman of the Nursing Activities Committee of the Morgan County chapter; Miss Mary McKaye, director of the Nursing Activities of the Central Division, and Maurice R. Reddy, medical social service director at Red Cross Hospital Number 30 in Chicago, made up the party that went from Jacksonville yesterday morning. Mr. Reddy is acting as head of the commission of disaster workers sent out by the Central Division office.

The boat was loaded at Meredosia with 1,500 food rations, bedding, blankets, clothing and other necessities. Using the boat as a base the workers will go up and down the river and stop at the different flooded towns and hamlets which are in need of immediate assistance. It is the plan to do the most work in the districts where there are scattered families made homeless by the flood. It is in these outlying districts that there is the most acute suffering and it is to these families that the workers will take aid. In some cases families have been driven from their homes by the floods and have been shut away from the rest of the world for more than a week. They have received no food or provisions of any kind and the little which they were able to take from their flooded homes has been consumed. It is in isolated cases such as these that the most severe suffering has been caused.

Captain Malloy, of the Coast Guards from the Great Lakes, is in command of the relief ship, "Illinois." The workers will make their headquarters on the boat and will go in small boats to the places where supplies and assistance is needed.
